witnessed an interaction between a male driver of a small female party who was walking on the sidewalk. He videoed the interaction because he got a "gut" feeling that something was not right. After I viewed the video it appeared that the two parties had comfortable conversation where the female can be seen leaning on the passenger door and reaching into the vehicle. She never attempts to leave and after a minute or two enters the vehicle on her own accord before driving away.

After running the license plate a notification popped up in the owners history. Please see attached incident report in regards to it.
